

THE ROYAL OFFICE
OF ADVICE AND COUNSEL

Be A Queen

When you wake and the day seems cold, wanting to do nothing and stay in bed.
You must then find fortitude, calm and bold,
leave your dreams, for the day ahead.

You just want to shelter ~ you just want to rest ~
you don't want
to take care always
you don't want
to do your best.

But you are Princess ~
your realm depends on you.
You need learn to lead ~
you need be brave and true.

You must rule your feelings,
you must rule your mood,
if you'll rule your kingdom ~
if you will do good.

The day ahead is empty
there for you to fill
with experience, practice and study ~ your destiny fulfill.

Highness, this is your duty all the tools of rule to glean there is not a day to waste for someday, you'll be Queen.
